

Inventory Sale

An invoice always brings to light odds and ends and sometimes full lines of seasonable good that a merchant prefers to sell at cost and even at less than cost rather than carry them over.

We have just finished our January invoice and it has brought out an unusually large lot of odds and ends that we are very anxious to close out and if prices will do it it will be done.

Haven't room to itemize, but you can count on finding tremendous bargains in every department in our store.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Garrott Makes a New Hood—Ed Dabney Rescued—Many Assessments Raised—Etc.

Slight O. V. Wreck.

The local freight on the Ohio Valley railroad was wrecked near Freedom. An oil tank car got across the track and the oil had to be pumped out before the wreck could be cleared. All trains were delayed several hours. No one was hurt.

Railroad Man's Mistake.

Princeton, Ind., Jan. 11.—James L. Berry, a well-known switchman on the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis railroad, had a leg crushed by a car running over it to night. Mr. Berry is master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen of this city. Amputation of the limb will follow the injury.

Henderson Negroes Not Tried.

Dave Powell, Will Dixon and Will Loving, the three negroes who attempted to kill Louis Metzner at Henderson, are still in jail here and will not be taken to Henderson for trial until the result of Metzner's wounds is finally determined. They have been indicted for malicious shooting.

Another Lynching in Order.

Chas. Taylor, col., put out a colored girl 14 years old from her home near Frankfort and after repeated assaults, murdered her and buried her naked body face downwards in a hole in the ground. He has been jailed and the negroes threaten to lynch him under the Governor's nose. A special guard is protecting the jail.

The Board of Equalization.

The County Board of Equalization adjourned yesterday after raising about 400 lists and lowering some. It is impossible to tell the amount of the changes, as no calculation has been made. The Board will reassemble Jan. 24 to hear complaints from those whose assessments have been raised.

Bryant Brothers Brought In.

Bob and Lawrence Bryant, colored, (brothers,) who got into a row at Gracely on last Christmas day and fired five shots apiece at each other, were arrested near Montgomery Tuesday by Constable Brame and lodged in jail here about 8 o'clock the same night. The date of their examining trial has not been set and it is likely that the matter will go before the grand jury. Bob Bryant, one of the prisoners, who received a bullet in his arm, has about recovered.

Ed Dabney Captured.

Ed Dabney, the negro who escaped from jail here some time in October last, was arrested by Constable Brame Wednesday, near Pee Dee, and returned to prison. Dabney was in jail charged with carrying a pistol and gaming, and while Turkey Kinney Tyler, col., was feeding the prisoners Dabney managed to pass out and escaped into the darkness and had since been at large. He entered a plea of guilty yesterday in both cases and was sent to the work house for 75 days.

The Murray Poisoning.

Last Thursday night Mr. Milton Booker, who lives two or three miles south-east of town, was awakened by one of his children who was very sick and in convulsions. Mr. Booker gave the alarm and when some neighbors came they discovered that another child was already dead. Mr. Booker and the remaining child were also sick but finally recovered. The symptoms were as from poison and can only be accounted for from something they ate for supper. Canned fruit was first suggested, but the doctors think possibly the poison was in the milk they drank—probably tyrotoxin, resulting from impure vessels in which the milk had been kept—Calloway Times.

Clifton Garrott Surrenders Again.

Clifton W. Garrott came in yesterday from Bolivar and surrendered to County Judge Breathitt.

He has not yet had an examining trial on the old warrant, but learning that a new warrant charging him with homicide had been issued, he came in and waived examination. The trial for next Monday will of course not be held.

He at once gave two new bonds. One for $5,000 for killing Tom Leavelle, col., and one for $1,500 for wounding Reuben Leavelle.

The following bondsmen signed both: J. J. Garrott, Tom Garrott, Walton Garrott, P. C. Salles, C. C. Carter, Douglas Bell, Jas. W. Garrett and Jas. H. Bradshaw. The bond is worth at least $150,000. The matter now goes over until the February grand jury investigates the facts.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT POLITICS.

Meers, Harding, Garrott, Molloy and Wash, the four Democratic county chairmen constituting the district committee of the fourth judicial district, will meet at Eddyville next Monday for the purpose of calling a convention or primary election to nominate candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney.

This meeting will be one of much importance to the Democratic party and no mistake should be made by the committee.

If we may be permitted to suggest what ought to be done, our opinion is that a convention should be held early in the spring and that the Populists and other humbugs be invited to co-operate with the Democratic party in electing men who will represent the principles of the majority in this important district.

We say a convention should be held, because it is less expensive, is less liable to be objected to by those who are expected to co-operate with us in a fair method of securing the will of the majority, and it affords a better plan for avoiding mistakes and getting a strong and properly located ticket. If the pro rata plan, based on the precinct vote, is adopted, the convention will have all the advantage of a direct expression from the people at their voting places. We would further suggest that this convention meet in Murray, in order that the delegates may have an opportunity to visit that remotely situated county, exchange views and greetings with the voters of the county having the largest number of silver men outside the Democratic party. If such a plan be adopted, and a convention called to meet at Murray not later than the middle of April, all supporters of Bryan to be allowed to participate in the primary meeting, we believe the Committee's action will receive the approval of the united opposition to Republicanism in this district.

As to the personnel of the ticket, that is a matter of easy and satisfactory solution. Any good and well qualified men, who stand with both feet upon the Chicago platform, and who have the confidence of the people, can make a winning race. But there must be no stalling, no temporizing, no double-dealing. No goldbug need apply, for the party must make square issue with the Republicans on the question that has brought about the present condition of the country. The candidates must be men able and willing to meet the Republican candidates upon the stump and force them to defend their unholy principles.

There will be candidates in perhaps each of the four counties meeting these requirements and at least one of our nominees should by all means come from Calloway county. If the people of that county can present a good man with the solid endorsement of his county, he will be nominated. Let us hear from Calloway.

DEATH OF REV. N. LACY.

Preached the Gospel 50 Years, and Married Three Hundred and Sixty-Four Couples.

Rev. Nick Lacy, one of Hopkins county's oldest and most respected citizens, died at his home one mile west from this city Monday morning of pneumonia.

Mr. Lacy was born in Christian county, near Pilot Rock, in November, 1816, and was therefore more than eighty years of age. He has been preaching the gospel for more than fifty years, and was one of the oldest preachers in the Baptist church. He was very popular with young people, and during his ministry had married three hundred and sixty-four couples, marrying his last couple while he lay in bed a few days ago.

Mr. Lacy's first wife was a Miss Meacham, and the result of their union was six children. They are Mr. Will Lacy, of Evansville; Dr. John Lacy, of Nashville; Mrs. C. Rice, of Louisville; Mrs. H. D. Boyle; Mrs. C. H. Young and Mrs. Sallie Previtt, of this city. After his wife's death he was married to Miss Georgia Proctor, several years ago, who survives him. Rev. Lacy was a Mason, and the funeral services were conducted by that order at Odd Fellows' cemetery yesterday afternoon, where the remains now lie. Rev. J. C. Hovey conducted brief funeral services at the family residence.

Rev. Lacy was a good man and was loved and respected by all who knew him. His life has been a shining example to those who followed in his footsteps. His loss is universally mourned.—Madisonville Mail.

Four Old Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 13.—Kleinhaus & Simonson, proprietors of the Mammoth clothing and furnishing goods store, have decided to retire from business in this city, and will sell out their establishment at once. Mr. Kleinhaus will go to Buffalo, where he owns a large store, while Mr. Simonson will not engage in business. The loss of such an enterprising firm will be felt by the city.

The nomination of W. M. Farrington to be postmaster at Memphis was confirmed Tuesday.

SPLIT HER HEAD.

REUBEN SERGEANT ATTACKS HIS WIFE WITH AN AXE.

Escapes From The Work House and Attempts Murder—Still At Large—His Victim Not Dead.

Reuben Sergeant made a desperate attempt Wednesday morning to kill his wife.

Tuesday he was sent to the work house on the testimony of his wife for drawing a pistol and threatening her life. He was put in for 36 days.

Wednesday morning he escaped by climbing the fence and went straight to his house in the third ward, across the railroad from the Ellis Ice Factory. He picked up an axe in the yard and rushed into the room and before his wife could escape struck at her head with the axe. She dodged and the weapon grazed the skull and cut off part of one ear. The blow knocked her down and thinking he had killed the woman Sergeant threw down the axe and made his escape.

He is still at large. Detective W. T. Brame started out yesterday to look for him. Sergeant came from Pembroke and it is probable he went in that direction. He is a bad man and to be at large and ought to be sent to Eddyville. His wife was not fatally hurt and will recover, but she will be disfigured for life.

PERSONAL GOSPEL.

Miss Myrtle Lindsay, of Madisonville, is visiting Mrs. Chas. M. Meacham.

Mr. J. L. Tobin attended the Tobin-Price wedding in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday.

Miss Jennie Winfree, of Hopkinsville, is visiting at Col. R. Rowland's on North Seventh.—Faduech Register.

Dr. A. E. Beatty was summoned to the bedside of his sister, Mrs. W. E. Bourland, at Dixon, Tuesday. She was reported dangerously ill.

Mr. Clem C. Plance, formerly with Troy Steam Laundry, Dayton, Ohio, has accepted a position as foreman of steam department in the Hopkinsville Steam Laundry.

Dr. B. W. Stone, of the Morning-side Retreat, Nashville, Tenn., was in the city Wednesday for the first time in some months. Dr. Stone's picture of health and is pleased with Nashville as a place of residence and business.

Mr. Wm. B. Neely, the rising young lawyer, has just returned from an important and successful business trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico. He went to look after the interests of some Clarksville clients in a big will case. He placed the matter in the hands of local attorneys and accomplished the purpose of his visit. Mr. Neely bids fair to make a pronounced success of his chosen profession.

Mr. J. C. Terry has moved his family from Adairville to this city and has located on South Campbell street. The Adairville correspondent of the Russellville Ledger, pays the following high compliment to Mr. Terry: "Mr. Terry has been a resident of Adairville for the past sixteen years, and has many friends here who regret very much to give him up. He has been in the front rank, and has long hand for every good cause that was calculated to build up Adairville. As a merchant he has all the time been in the front rank, and has accommodated many a man who could not have gotten accommodation elsewhere. Mr. Terry and family will be greatly missed in business, church and social circles, and Adairville's loss will be Hopkinsville's gain."

In Rip Van Winkle.

Chas. F. Underhill will appear at the Tabernacle to-night in an impersonation of Rip Van Winkle. The audience is inexpressibly charmed by Mr. Underhill's rendering of "Rip Van Winkle," and at its conclusion have very much the same feeling that "Rip" seems to have been there with all his fun-loving characteristics. Gretchen, too, with her constant laughing and she had cause enough, poor woman—Derrick, Nick, and indeed all the familiar faces are there almost as distinctly as though Mr. Underhill had the assistance of many. But he is alone. The illusion created is the effect of his masterly genius as an impersonator. His dialect is perfect, his voice and manner admirably adapted to every situation, and the story is spoken and acted in a way that leaves nothing to be desired.

Those who intend going out to hear him will be glad to know that arrangements have been made to light the house with clusters of incandescent lights and also foot-lights and stage lights. Tickets are selling rapidly at Elgin's. Admission 35c. Children 20c.

Nailers at Ironton, O., are declining to submit to a cut of 20 per cent. in their wages.

Kentucky's electoral vote was cast and certified to at Frankfort Monday, 12 votes for McKinley and Hobart and on for Bryan and Sewall. Wedding and Howes, the hindmost Republican electors, were tied and Howes was chosen elector and Howes made messenger to take the vote to Washington.

Married in Clarksville.

Beaumont, Jan. 11.—Mr. E. H. Smith, a well known young farmer of this neighborhood, and Miss Mary E. Newton a popular young lady of Trigg county, went over to Clarksville this morning and were married at the Northtown House at 2 o'clock p. m. Rev. W. R. H. Crump, of Clarksville, who accompanied them, performed the ceremony. The happy couple returned this evening and will be fettered a brilliant reception at Mr. A. R. Smith's, father of the groom.

Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, of Benton, Ky., is mysteriously missing. She left her husband and was last heard of in Paducah, December 18. It is feared she has committed suicide.

United States Senator Perkins was re-elected by the California Legislature.

A Great Opportunity to Secure a Business Education at Home.

Prof. M. G. Everett, representing Druggists' Practical Business College, Nashville, Tenn., and Texarkana, Tex., is now in Hopkinsville, where he will teach a short course of bookkeeping and short hand. Prof. Everett brings with him letters in which he is traveling letters in the interest of the colleges, which are reliable institutions.

These colleges offer through their representative some exceptional inducements to all who take a special course under him. Do not miss this great opportunity. Enter at once in order to get advantage of the full term. See Prof. Everett, headquarters over Cox & Boulevard.

Dissolution Notice.
Following the dissolution of the firm of Garnett & Moore, I have to announce that Stephen E. Trice, Jr., is associated in the office with me under the firm name and style of Walter F. Garnett & Co., who will continue the General Insurance Business at the old stand, corner of Eighth and Main Streets, Hopkinsville, Ky., representing the following leading American and foreign companies, to wit: Royal Insurance Company, of Liverpool; Niagara Fire Insurance Company, of New York; Fire Association of Philadelphia, Pa.; United Fireman's Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Metropolitan Plate Glass Insurance Company; Travelers of Hartford (Accident Department); National Building & Loan Association, and Special Agent for the New York Life Insurance Company.

Thinking the public for past favors and respectfully soliciting a continuation of the same.
Respectfully,
WALTER F. GARNETT.

A final settlement of the accounts of Bumgarner, who has been made and the assignee was discharged yesterday. The settlement was at fifty cents on the dollar. The company hopes to resume business, but has no definite plan in that direction.—Tuesday's Courier Journal.

From this it will be seen that Louisville business circles are trying the experiment of "fifty cent dollars," in spite of the postponement of free coinage.

$100 Reward $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FOR 15 DAYS

BEGINS MONDAY JAN. 18.

PREPARE TO BE PLEASED.

It's a blessing to be within reach of such an opportunity. We make prices which you cannot resist.

In absolute bargains it eclipses them all. Our Annual Inventory brought out the fact that in many lines we are too heavy stocked at this season of the year. We have determined to reduce them in order to make room for our Spring Stock. We have not permitted greed for profit to deter us in the least. We have made up our minds to let them go, Profit or no profit, Cost or no Cost.

LONGEVITY.

Some Remarkable Cases That Have Been Placed on Record.

Among the examples of modern longevity in diet, Miguel Solis, of San Salvador, is conspicuous. He was, according to the Lancet, 180 years old in 1878, and, if he is still to the fore, is likely to complete the third century. He believed that he had lived so long because he had never eaten more than one meal a day. Even more than that limited himself to what he could tuck in during the short space of a day. He was, therefore, as a living argument against those hygienists who bid us eat slowly and masticate well. His diet was chiefly vegetable, meat, which was always cooked the day before, entering into it only twice a week. For two days in every month he fasted, and he drank large quantities of water. His plan included several other details and, on the whole, we of this age, in the few cases, without envy, wish him joy.

Maclean, the comedian, who lived and died in Covent Garden, was a wonderful oddity, in virtue of which he perhaps apes a long life. He managed to get through 107 years. He followed the wise and simple rule of eating when hungry, drinking when thirsty and sleeping when sleepy. All these he did in a real sense. He never took off his clothes except for the purpose of having his body rubbed all over with brandy. He always slept in blankets, and history does not record a single journey on his part to the laundries. And his couch, which was hard, was placed in the middle of the room.

What is most strange about longevity is that it comes, like the deity, to every class. Kings who live in luxury, beggars who go through existence in a state of chronic cold and hunger, giants and cripples, abstainers and drunkards, large eaters and small eaters, tollers and sluggards, brain-workers and body-workers, vegetarians and carnivores, smokers and non-smokers, sane and insane—all have apparently an equal chance of the prize of long life. An old woman who died in Ireland at the age of 112 was all her life a beggar, and during the last half of it was never known to eat a square meal from one end of the year to the other. In the United States, on the other hand, many have even exceeded this figure, and he was never known to pass a day without eating as much, all by himself, as an ordinary family of five. It was also an American who grew a new and fine set of teeth at the age of 106 for the purpose of eating three pounds of pork, three pounds of bread and a vast quantity of cabbage on the day when he gave up the ghost. On the other hand, a Shorthill barber, who died at the age of 105, never drank anything but water and ate only once a day. A priest of Nice lived solely on vegetables, which kept his machine running and in perfect order for 106 years.

Among a host of others, one gentleman of 127 years, a grandson of the famous Thomas Parr, attributes his length of days to extreme temperance and regular exercise. And Mrs. Judith Barister, who died at Cowes in her 105th year, lived on apples, biscuit and milk and water for the last 60 years of her life; while a man named Condit, of Bury, who lived to the age of 109, ate a portion of a century and a half through moderate eating, great exercise and gulping down a raw egg once a day. A pleasant process one Earl, of Huntington, contrived to celebrate 100 birthdays. He took care to eat his vegetables at every meal. Roasted turnip for supper every night in the year formed the elixir that carried Mr. Wilson, of Sussex, through 116 years. And Mr. Ekins, of Combe, lived a century and a half, during the latter two-fifths of it, on bread, milk and turnip tops. Mrs. McCarthy, of Cork, breakfasted at seven, dined at one and supped at half-past six. This she did until she was 103 years old. She died aged 103 years. But Philip Laroque, a Gascony butcher, was drunk twice every week for 93 years, and yet lived to be 102, while a Kerry man named McCarthy lived on whisky and whiskey as he taken and coffee. If he was ever tempted to descend to claret or ale, he drank immediately afterwards, an equal quantity of potent, stout, he said. He kept doing this for 111 years. Smoking heavily was the practice that kept Mrs. Robertson, a Scotch woman, going for 106 years. And Mr. Richard Brown, of Peterchurch, was a teetotaler, without a pipe in his mouth. It would be interesting to hear some Transvaal records, for in that country they keep the pipe going with as much constancy as a blast furnace.—London Standard.

Ancient Wooden Building.

The oldest wooden building in the world is said to be the church at Borgund, in Norway. It was built in the eleventh century, and has been protected by frequent coatings of pitch. It is built of pine and in a fantastic Romanesque design.

THIS AND THAT.

"Vienna has a strange 'Silence club,' composed of married men, who meet, dine and spend the evening together without talking."

"F. T. Paigraev, who compiled the 'Golden Treasury of English Lyrics,' has prepared a book tracing the treatment of landscape in poetry from Homer's time to the present day."

"A London gas company is about to petition parliament to change the qualifications for the directorship in order to enable a workman to become a member of the board of directors."

"Kaiser Wilhelm is having a large building erected near his palace at Mon Bijou, for exercise in winter. It will contain a gymnasium, tennis and racquet courts, fencing rooms and a covered bicycle track."

"Sarasate, the violinist, has a red Stradivarius, for which he says he has just refused an offer of £30,000 made by an American collector, after rejecting bids by the same man of $100,000, $80,000 and $50,000."

"Between 40 and 50 women, mostly Americans and 50 men, mostly Germans, are being sent to the United States of America this summer. At Zurich, where there are 150 of them, the women students are demanding equal rights with the men."

"Adelina Patti is studying at Craig's Nest, a new opera called 'Dolores,' by M. Andre Polonais, the young composer who wrote for her a year ago the pantomime drama, 'Mikla.' She intends to bring out the opera at Nice next spring."

"Sardou's new play is called 'Spiritism,' and brings in spiritualism seriously, as the dramatist has for some time professed to be a believer in it. The play is constructed for Sarah Bernhardt, who will produce it after appearing in Alfred de Musset's 'Lorenzaccio.'"

"There are now 560 miles of electric roads in Europe, an increase of 125 miles during the year. The number of cars has increased from 1,236 to 1,747. Germany leads with 250 miles of track and 857 cars, then come France with 82 miles and 225 cars, Great Britain with 65 miles and 168 cars and Austria-Hungary with 45 miles and 157 cars. Russia has one line with six miles of track and 32 motor cars. Of the 111 European lines 91 are worked by the overhead trolley system; three, one in Germany, England and Hungary, by an underground current; nine by an insulated central rail, and eight by storage batteries."

A GRUESOME BUSINESS.

Razor Strops of Human Skin Are Now on the Market.

It is well known that in dissecting the most delicate and finest of steel instruments are used. It is necessary to keep these instruments extremely sharp. The ordinary coarse stone or strip would utterly destroy the delicate blades. It is also well known that a razor can be made "finished" on the palm of the hand. This fact led to the use of small crude strips made of bits of flesh, secured in the dissecting room. The possibilities of this human flesh strip are almost endless. The practical mind of one of the students that he began experiments which have resulted in the introduction very quietly on the market of a razor strop made of human flesh.

One student made a machine of black flesh and the other side of white flesh. The skin for these strips is secured in this way: When students are given parts of the human body to dissect, the skin is usually removed and thrown away. This waste skin is now in great demand.

The leg skin is the part most prized, as it is from this that the most desirable strips of skin for razor strops are secured. The epidermis and the dermis are carefully removed together in a strip 18 inches by 5 inches. All fat is cut away and the strip is then put in a strong solution of arsenic and water, where it is allowed to remain for about five hours. It is now changed to a weaker solution of arsenic and left for a day and a half. It is then subjected to a strong solution of soda, and after being rubbed hard with a smooth, round stick it is rendered flexible and ready for mounting.

The two strips of human flesh are put together back to back, and make a razor strop which is said by those who have used them to be far superior to the ordinary razor strop of leather.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Coal Supplied Through Pipes.

Mr. Andrews claims that coal can be piped to any desired point as easily as oil, and very economically. He has demonstrated, by an experimental line in New York, that the coal can be carried in a slight pipe, and carried in water through the mains. He says that the cost of delivering to mills and other consumers will be much less than at present. One objection, however, might be the difficulty of burning this wet coal dust.

YEOMEN AND WARDERS.

Ancient Corps Which Are Frequently Confounded with Each Other.

Two English semi-military organizations, which exist, as do many other institutions in the United Kingdom, largely on account of tradition, rather than from any special necessity, are the tower warders and yeomen of the guard. From a hazy idea of their actual duties and a similarity in the uniform they are frequently confounded, but only by visiting Americans, but by Englishmen who are proud of their knowledge of English institutions. The London Stetch takes occasion to correct some of the errors that have existed in the popular mind regarding these old established corps. The royal body guard of the yeomen of the guard was founded in 1485 by Henry VII, and was modeled upon a similar band maintained by Louis XI. of France. It was originally a troop of archers, but since the time of William III. the corps has been armed with muskets, pikes, or pikes. The Earl of Oxford was the first captain. The corps consists of 100 men, four exons (an officer peculiar to the corps), an adjutant, a lieutenant and ensign and a captain of the yeomen of the guard. Lord Waldegrave is the present captain and he succeeded Lord Limerick. The yeomen must all have seen service, and as a general thing they are the pick of the noncommissioned officers of the army. Many of them are men decorated for distinguished service on the field. Arthur Rule wears a decoration for distinguished conduct at Inkerman, and Robert Kell carries the only Victoria cross in the corps, for saving the colors at Delhi.

The tower warders are also usually appointed from among the noncommissioned officers of the army, but it is not necessary that they should have seen war service. They are eligible until they are 50 years of age. Their uniform is the same as that worn by the yeomen, with the exception of the hat. The uniform was granted to the warders by Edward VI at the request of the duke of Somerset, to whom they had been very kind during imprisonment in the tower. The yeomen of the guard are 230 in number, and their duties are to attend to levees, drawing-rooms and other state occasions. Their guard-room is in FOCI court.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Not Worth Regarding with the Horror.

We wonder whether any statistic or any doctor in great practice knows accurately whether there is any positive increase among the educated classes in the number of sudden deaths, by which we mean deaths without an recovery consciousness from the moment of seizure. We fancy it is so, though the fancy may only be born of the special notice one accords to such events; and we fancy also, this time with more certainty, that there is a marked change in the manner in which such incidents are regarded. Forty years ago everybody who heard of a death among his acquaintances like that of the archbishop of Canterbury deemed it incumbent on him to profess, and in many cases actually felt, a sort of horror which to-day is almost absent from men's minds.

Conventionalism on the subject is extinct, no one deplores the suddenness of the event, and those who speak frankly say openly: "How terrible for the archbishop's relations, but how fortunate for him."

The archbishop's falling or shivering of the mind, in fact, to have been transferred to the deaths after long suffering, and it is not uncommon to hear men acknowledge that they would rather die as the archbishop died than in any other way, and even declare that they now carefully avoid repeating that prayer in the Litany which, as they think, involves a petition to the Almighty against sudden death. It is by no means clear from the context that they are not partially in error, and that the prayer is not directed against the death by violence which at the time it was written was of all the suddenest and most reasonable, of course, also possible that the sentence is a survival from the days when to receive all the aids the church could give to the passing spirit was held to be of the utmost importance, and men dreaded, as the brave Breton soldiers still dread, nothing so much as dying—like Hamlet's father—"unhousel'd, unanointed, unhearsed." However that may be, a change of opinion is very marked, and we are disposed to inquire both whence it arose and whether it is beneficial.—London Spectator.

Insanity on the Increase.

At the ninth congress of Italian alienists, recently held in Florence, Dr. Tamburini called attention to the startling fact that within the last five years the number of insane people in Italy had increased from 14,000 to 30,000.

CURIOS OF THE CENSUS.

Singular Occupations Followed by Some Men and Women.

Occupations open to the thrifty individuals of both sexes have greatly increased during the last two decades, or even since the taking of the last decennial census in 1890. The extraordinary progress of science during the time specified and the application of its principle to the practical problems of human life have not only had the effect of greatly increasing the capacity for production in the trades already firmly established, says the St. Louis Republic, but have opened hundreds of queer side alleys which lead direct to the avenues of trade.

There are, of course, dozens of these new and remarkable occupations with which science does not deal even in the remotest sense. In this class we find the rat catcher, the skunk farmer, the man who makes his living by picking up lost things in depots, theaters, hotels, etc., and returning them their owners with the expectation of being rewarded, the clothes wringer, the man who collects orange and lemon peels, and the Lark Hymn syndicate, which is now engaged in raising black cats for their fur. They are not raising these cats on water, but they do interfere with the man who collects orange and lemon peels, and the Lark Hymn syndicate, which is now engaged in raising black cats for their fur. They are not raising these cats on water, but they do interfere with the man who collects orange and lemon peels, and the Lark Hymn syndicate, which is now engaged in raising black cats for their fur.

There are still others in the non-selective category of queer occupations, but it will only be necessary to mention a few. One is a "rattlesnake farmer," who lives in the Ozark mountains and makes the rattlesnake into a money-making machine from three different directions. The oil he disposes of to druggists, who have regular customers that he believes it to be a panacea for a hundred different ills; the skin he sells to apothecaries, who use them as bathtubs, and the skeletons are always a ready sale, the purchasers being the curators of the natural history departments of the different colleges and society museums. The rattlesnake farmer keeps up in the morning, the old cork collectors and the dog catchers are well-known characters in every large city.

The individuals who gain a livelihood in pursuits that are strictly scientific are equally numerous, and those who follow the more humble callings. In the list of occupations that are strictly scientific is the manufacture of artificial eggs, artificial clouds and false diamonds. In the list of the more humble callings, combs, penholders and other articles of a similar nature, from blood collected at the slaughterhouses. The man who makes billiard balls, or the rings from potatoes which have been treated to a solution of nitric and sulphuric acids is also the proprietor of an "industry" wherein the fundamental principles are strictly scientific.

But not content to all be carried on by a young Pennsylvanian, who is making a regular business of extracting the poison from honey bees. According to the accounts they have two different ways of collecting their crop of poison. In the first the bees are caught and held with their abdomens in small glass tubes until the poison sacks have been emptied. In the second they are placed in a bottle on wire netting, and the bees are kept until the drops of venom fall into the alcohol which fills the lower third of the bottle. This venom is said to be a sovereign remedy for cancer, rheumatism, snake bite and a hundred other of the more terrible ills of humanity.

An Odd Experiment.

A scientific investigator recently placed several dogs in separate kennels and chose for each animal a separate occupation, such as waiting on the hind legs, barking at command, etc. The dogs spent most of their waking time at "lessons." Then they were killed, when it was found that in the dog which had been trained to bark, that portion of the brain which controls the organs of speech had enlarged more than the rest; in the dog trained to run, the portion controlling the legs was enlarged; and in the dog which had been trained to wait, the portion controlling the brain was enlarged. In every case that portion of the brain was found to be most developed through the agency of which the special act required of the dog had been performed.

Where Alexander Fought Darius.

Arbeia, which gave its name to the third great battle between Alexander and Darius, is a town in the Turkish village of Kurdistan, on the eastern route between Bagdad and Mosul, about 40 miles southeast of the latter city. The battle, however, was not really fought at Arbeia, but at a place 30 miles distant, then called Gangeiana, now Karmelis.

It has been held that consumption is hereditary, as the fact that one generation of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit the liability to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop. Keep the lungs full of rich, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. Sued 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

A Sound Liver Makes a Man.

Are you bilious, constipated or troubled with jaundice, sick head ache, bad taste in mouth, foul breath, coated tongue, dyspepsia, indigestion, hot dry skin, pain in back and between the shoulders, chills and fever, etc. If you have any of these symptoms, your liver is out of order, and your blood is slowly being poisoned, because your blood does not act properly. Merberine will cure any disorder of the liver, stomach or bowels. It has no equal as a liver medicine. Price 75 cents. Free trial bottle at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong
He failed to use Foley's Kidney Cure for his kidney complaint.—For sale by C. K. Wyly.

Russia exports more wheat than any other country.

S. F. Fritz, of 677 Sedgwick street, Chicago, says: "I had a severe cough which settled on my lungs. I tried a number of advertised remedies and also placed myself under treatment of several physicians, with no benefit. I was recommended to try Foley's Honey and Tar. With little expectation of getting relief, I purchased a bottle. I had taken but few doses when I felt greatly improved; I was enabled to sleep, spitting of blood ceased, and by the time I had taken the second bottle I was entirely well. I saved my life." For sale by C. K. Wyly.

An attempted train wreck was discovered near Tampa, Fla.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Row of Hollands, Va., has to say below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances. "Last winter I had lagrippe which left me in a low state of health. I tried numerous remedies, none of which did me any good, until I was induced to try a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by R. C. Hardwick, drug store.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

The Loud postal bill passed the house.

The sugar-coating, makes Ayer's Pills easy to take, it dissolves immediately on reaching the stomach, and so permits the full strength and benefit of the medicine to be promptly communicated. Ask your druggist for Ayer's almanac, just out.

Gov. David M. Clough, of Minnesota was inaugurated.

The folly of prejudices is frequently shown by people who prefer to suffer for many years rather than try an advertised remedy. The millions who have no such notions, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla for blood-diseases, and are cured. So much for common sense.

SAVED BY HIS HORSE.

Faithfulness and Intelligence of One Animal in Battle.

A graphic story is told by Surgeon-Capt. Turner of the floors who served in Rhodesia, the attack on Mashangombi's horses began to drop, and soon 13 lay on the ground, and it looked as if the men would all be killed. Evidently Capt. Turner thought so, for he virtually gave the order, "Suave que puit," telling every man to fight the best he could for his own hand. But though the horses continued to fall, the men escaped. Dr. Grey, to use his own words, "led the troops the way out" under a raking fire at a gallop, and was closely followed by the troop.

"Very soon, however, I fell from the saddle, struck with a bullet from an elephant gun about 500 yards off. The bullet struck me on the top of the thigh, smashing the socket of the thigh-bone, breaking a vein, and otherwise wounding me. My horse was carried on at full speed with the rear-guard, which moved at a distance of about 100 feet. At the same moment I saw my horse come thundering back from the drift. It suddenly stopped and came and stood over my prostrate body, covering me from the front, and at the same time clearing the pocket-like entrance of the drift, where the natives were lying in the hope of killing us. As I lay on the grass, bleeding profusely, I looked up and saw two natives aiming at me at a distance of about 100 feet. At the same moment I saw my horse come thundering back from the drift. The weather clerk made another attempt to send us a snow Tuesday night, but like the other two very light touches of "the beautiful" we have had this winter, it did not amount to much. Before daylight the snow turned into drizzle rain and but slight traces of the fall were visible the next morning.

The L. & N. Railroad now requires all tickets to be used on the day they are sold. This important change is now in effect on this division.

In speaking of Mr. Chas. F. Underhill, who appears at the tubercular to-night, Mr. Wm. H. Morrison, General Secretary of the V. M. C. A., of Baltimore, Md., says:

"Mr. Chas. F. Underhill is one of the standing attractions of our V. M. C. A. course. He has been with us again and again, and will be on the course this year. He possesses just the ability and faculty to please that insures his constant popularity."

Mr. Jas. W. Ford is one of the most successful breeders of Berkshire hogs in this portion of the State. His stock cannot be surpassed for purity of blood and care in breeding. Mr. Ford has one of the finest herds of high class stock to be found in Kentucky. He has now on hand an especially nice lot of pigs ready for the trade at very low prices, quality considered. Those desiring to improve their stock, or to raise pure bred Berkshires, should communicate with Mr. Ford and give him a trial order. His postoffice is Church Hill, Kentucky.

Messrs. T. K. Torian and C. A. Chappell, well-known business men of Cadiz, will open first class grocery in that place next week. They will occupy the old Chappell stand, and the building has been thoroughly overhauled, and properly arranged for the handling of staple articles. Mr. Torian is very much business and no man stands higher in the commercial world than he, for as any one more staunch friend, Mr. Chappell is also well known to the trade of that section, having been engaged in the mercantile business for a number of years and enjoyed great popularity. The new firm will open with the brightest prospects, and it might well be said that their success is almost a matter to be recorded already.

DEATHS.

MORRISON.—Mrs. Annie B. Morrison, wife of Mr. Eugene Morrison, Jr., died in Pembroke Wednesday night, Jan. 13, at the home of her father, Mr. R. B. Lloyd. She died of consumption, from which she had been a sufferer for two years. Six months ago she grew so much worse that she left her home and went to her father's, where she could receive a mother's careful nursing. She leaves one child, a little girl three years old.

Mrs. Morrison was 23 years old and was married to Mr. Morrison about four years ago. She was a member of the Baptist church. Her funeral will be preached at 10:30 a. m. to-day at her father's residence in Pembroke, by Rev. J. G. Bow.

FAIRCHILD.—Mrs. Cora Pritchett, wife of Mr. Jas. W. Pritchett, suddenly expired of heart disease Wednesday morning at an early hour. Before the hour for rising she was attacked with a smothering spell and before assistance could be summoned. She was down in the city the evening before in her usual health. Mrs. Pritchett was one of the best and most charitable of women. She was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and was a leader in works of charity and kindness. She had during her lifetime expressed a wish that her body be kept out of the grave for three days, as she had a horror of being buried alive. In accordance with the expressed desire, the interment will not take place until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be preached by Rev. W. J. King, assisted by Dr. Settle. Interment in Howell cemetery.

COLORED

RHODES.—Elvira Rhodes, aged three years, a grand-child of Dick McCarty, formerly of this city, died in Chicago Monday of spinal trouble. The remains were shipped here by express Tuesday, and as no one claimed the body it was turned over to E. W. Glass, the undertaker, who buried it Wednesday.

McREYNOLDS.—Rebecca, the wife of Charles McReynolds, died near Union school house Tuesday, of exhaustion, aged 30 years.

BRENT.—Miss Ellen Brent, mother of A. C. Brent, the Sovern's street grocer, died of the grip yesterday.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Business men should have word at their homes if they want their numbers. It is impossible for census takers when assigning numbers to come down town and hunt up the business man, to find if he wants a number on his house. Trouble is being caused the census takers to do this and the work of numbering is being delayed. BE SURE AND LEAVE WORD AT YOUR HOME.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the material life, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get the beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physician, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
